

I am against this proceeding. The Indiana call rule is much tougher and protects consumers in a greater degree. Before our protection I used to get between 10-15 solisitors per week with most being automated telemarketers. Today I average less then 1 per week.